Quality profiles since 1960

SINCE 1960

The Rizzolo family's business began in 1960 working with solid wood.

For 40 years now, with the entry of the 2nd generation, it has specialized in the production of profiles.

Since the early years, it has stood out for the quality of its products and its focus on customer service.

Today, GPE is a solid and well-established company; thanks to the involvement of the 3rd generation, our vision for the future is to continue growing, innovating, and maintaining the highest quality standards while continuing to respond to the challenges of an increasingly global and constantly evolving market.

PRODUCTS

We offer a wide range of products for various sectors, including construction, windows and doors, picture frames, DIY, and indoor and outdoor furniture.

In addition, we are able to produce customized profiles to meet every specific customer request.

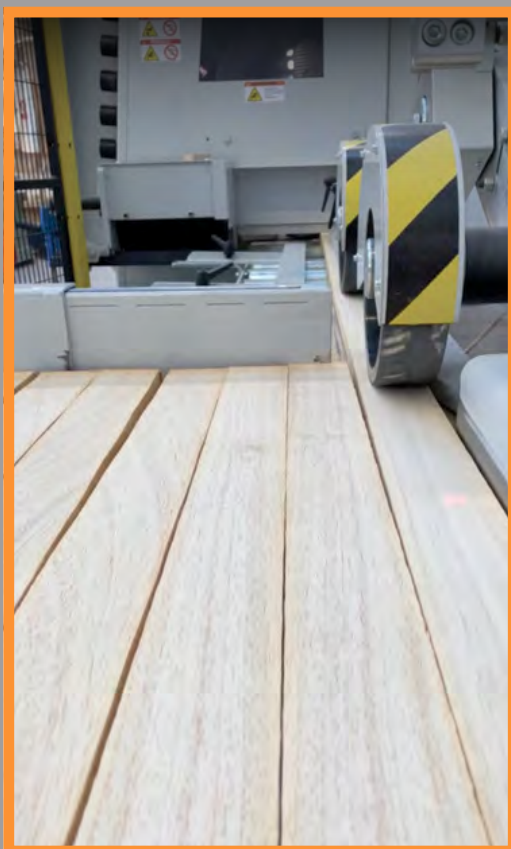

Choosing our wooden profiles means relying on a partner that values quality and artisanal excellence.
